Summary

1. From April 24 to May 6, 2022, the 400 Mawozo armed gangs attacked the Chen Mechan base in its stronghold at the Croix-des-Missions. In the ensuing violent clashes, one hundred ninety-one (191) people were murdered, one hundred seven (107) men, seventy-six (76) women, six (6) girls, and two (2) boys. At least eighteen (18) women were raped. Seventeen (17) of them were later executed. Eighty-one (81) houses and at least fifty-seven (57) vehicles were set on fire. Many people were shot or stabbed, and one hundred fifty-eight (158) children became orphans.

2. Of those killed, forty-eight (48) were presented to the RNDDH as members or relatives of one of the armed gangs fighting.

3. In addition to the human and material losses recorded during this carnage, some parents witnessed the execution of their offspring, and others were murdered in the presence of their children, most of whom are young. Many people have been forced to abandon their loved ones and at least one spouse has witnessed the repeated rapes of his partner.

4. As of May 10, 2022, the RNDDH had issued a preliminary report that only tracked the facts and profiled the protagonists. Today, with this new publication, the RNDDH wishes to recount the testimonies of survivors, to shed light on the fury with which the armed bandits attacked the population and the actions taken by the police and judicial authorities.

5. On this very point, the police authorities claimed to have carried out several operations in the area and arrested a few individuals involved in this carnage. For their part, two months later, the judicial authorities still cannot provide precise information on the actions undertaken by them, with a view to putting public action in motion against the armed bandits involved in this carnage, they include well-known armed gangs’ leaders.

6. Today, the situation remains tense in la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac: the displaced people who had taken refuge in the public square of Clercine are pressured by the local authorities to leave the place. They do not know where to go having, for the most part, lost everything they possessed. The Chen Mechan base continues to execute young people, under the pretext that they serve as an antenna for the armed gang of 400 Mawozo.

7. Based on the results of its investigation, the RNDDH recommends that the relevant authorities:
   • Provide financial, medical, and psychological support to survivors of the Carnage de la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac;
   • To call on the DCPJ to investigate the acts perpetrated against the lives and property of the Plaine du Cul-de-Sac from April 24 to May 6, 2022, with a view transmitting to the judicial authorities a detailed report, for the setting in motion of public action against all those involved in it;
   • Lead the DCPJ to investigate the close relations between certain journalists, public figures, and armed bandits;
   • Lead the IGPNH to investigate the involvement of police equipment including the UDMO - in the commission of the Carnage de la Plaine du Cul de Sac;
   • End distribution of weapons and ammunition to armed bandits;
   • Re-establish anti-counterfeiting brigades to prevent illegal weapons and ammunition from entering the country.
I. INTRODUCTION

1. From April 24 to May 6, 2022, a violent war – now called the Carnage of la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac – broke out between the 400 Mawozo gangs and the Chen Mechan base.

2. In a preliminary report released on May 10, 2022, by the National Human Rights Defense Network (RNDDH), the unfolding of the attack was reconstructed, and a partial assessment of the victims was presented. The RNDDH, however, continued with its investigations, paying particular attention to the circumstances in which the massive human rights violations recorded were perpetrated by the armed bandits.

3. Today, the RNDDH intends to share with the public the additional information collected as part of its investigation.

II. METHODOLOGY

4. To carry out this work, the RNDDH met with officials:
   - The police stations in Croix-des-Bouquets and Tabarre:
   - From the Public Prosecutor's Office to the Court of First Instance of the Croix des Bouquets;
   - The Courts of Peace of the Croix-des-Missions and the Croix-des-Bouquets;
   - The General Inspection of the National Police of Haiti (PNH);
   - From the Departmental Directorate of the West;
   - From the Central Directorate of Administrative Police (DCPA);
   - The Central Directorate of Judicial Police (DCPJ).

5. In addition, the RNDDH collected the testimonies of two hundred and eight (208) survivors of the Carnage of la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac, during interviews conducted during the period from April 26 to June 7, 2022.

III. REMINDER OF EVENTS RECORDED

6. On April 22 and 23, 2022, tension was palpable in several areas of La Plaine du Cul de Sac. This tension was generated on the one hand by the execution of a police officer on April 22, 2022, in Shada, by bandits from the Chen Mechan base. On the other hand, it was fueled, the day after this assassination, by heavy shots of automatic weapons heard in the area.

7. However, the actual armed attacks began on April 24, 2022, shortly before 5 a.m. On that day, armed bandits, members of the 400 Mawozo gang, and wearing T-shirts with the registration of their armed gang, boarded motorcycles, buses, and vans simultaneously in several areas of the La Plaine du Cul de Sac, including Michaud, Butte Boyer, Mapou Street extended and Swamp.
They then began to attack the civilian population. They broke into houses, killed the people they met on the spot, and set fire to the target areas.

8. During the mid-day on April 24, 2022, members of the G-9 An Fanmi e Alye, boarded several vehicles including one (1) armored PNH assigned to the service of the Departmental Unit for the Maintenance of Order (UDMO), assisted the Chen Mechan base.

9. From the moment the armed bandits of the G-9 An Fanmi e Alye arrived, the bandits of the Chen Mechan base also began to attack the population. So, members of the community were hunted down in their homes. Some armed bandits even had lists of people to eliminate. The 400 Mawozo gangs were looking for people who could provide financial and economic support to the Chen Mechan base. In that case, the Chen Mechan bandits were looking for people in the community who have always rebelled against their actions.

10. The bodies of the murdered were thrown into water wells and latrines. Bodies were chopped into small pieces. Others were charred. Some were also thrown into the Grey River.

IV. DETAILED BALANCE SHEET OF RECORDED EVENTS

The loss of life and property is immeasurable.

11. This Status Report increases the data collected by the RNDDH and presented in the Preliminary Report. It also provides details of the circumstances in which these individuals were victims.

12. At least one hundred and ninety-one (191) people were murdered in armed attacks by the 400 Mawozo gang in the Chen Mechan stronghold. The breakdown of victims is as follows:

   • One hundred and seven (107) men, seventy-six (76) women, six (6) girls and two (2) boys;
   • Twenty-nine (29) of the victims were sixty (60) years of age or older, including nineteen (19) women and ten (10) men;
   • Thirty-eight (38) victims, at least fourteen (14) female and twenty-four (24) males, were killed in the fire at their home by gunmen.

13. As a result of this carnage, at least one hundred and fifty-eight (158) children have become orphans of fathers, mothers or both parents.

14. In addition, of the victims identified, at least forty-eight (48) were presented to the RNDDH as members of armed gangs fighting.

B. Murdered persons, presented as bandits

133. According to residents met during this investigation, in the two (2) camps that were fighting, armed bandits were also killed. Some people killed in their homes, in the community, have also been presented either as relatives of armed bandits or as wanted by armed bandits because of their connection to the opposing gang. The following information was provided to the RNDDH in this regard:
134. On April 24, 2022, seventeen (17) young women who were in a motel in Nan Galèt, Butte Boyer area, were surprised by the gang of 400 Mawozo who accused them of being part of the Koko Fé base reputed close to the Chen Mechan base. They were murdered before being thrown into water wells and latrines. Some say they were also raped before being killed. Here are the full names of thirteen (13) of them:

- Sophia BELLEVUE
- Junette BRILLANT
- Marie Claire CLERGE
- Marie-Ange DOMINIQUE
- Marie-Rose HYPPOLITE
- Tamara MOISE alias Manman Baz
- Jacqueline PIERRE
- Pierre Rose PRÉVOST
- Dieuline RICHEMOND
- Marie Fifi RENÉ alias Tifi
- Mamoune SAINT HUBERT
- Schneidine SAINT LOUIS
- Lunise TIMOTHEE

135. In the exchanges of shots, thirteen (13) persons were murdered who were alleged to be close to the Chen Mechan base. These are:

- Jean Félix ALCINDOR
- Frantz AUGUSTIN
- Danise EXANTUS

211. Felicia NELSON’s house at #29 Cangé Impasse, Butte Boyer, was set on fire by members of the 400 Mawozo gang;
212. Natacha NOATÈRE, born May 12, 1977, and mother of seven (7) children lived in Anba Mapou, in the Croix-des-Missions. On April 24, 2022, his house was completely burned down;
213. Jacquelin NOËL lived in Butte Boyer in a house he rented. The house was set on fire;
214. The house in which J.L.C.P. lived was close to that of a member of the Chen Mechan base. The bandits of the 400 Mawozo set fire to it and it spread to the victim’s house;
215. Marie Maude RICHE was forty-six (46) years old living with her husband and five (5) children in Wout Tè, Shada. She had to flee the house with her children to take refuge in Jerusalem. When she went back home, she found that her house had been set on fire;
216. After spending several days at the Eben-Ezer Church in Clercine, Marie Natacha Noël SAINT-FORT had gone to her house in Butte Boyer to recover some effects. Arriving at the scene, she noticed that her house, completely burned down, was still smoking;
217. V.S. rented a house in Shada on the back of the National Bank of Credit (BNC). It was set on fire and is currently living in the home of a woman living in the MBC Radio area;
218. Johane SUPRIEN, a merchant, mother of seven (7) children, and two (2) daughters had rented a house in Butte Boyer. It is completely charred;
219. Elna Louis JEUNE, fifty-five (55) years old and mother of five (5) children, was in Cabaret shopping. During the shooting, her children fled Wout Tè to join her in Cabaret. Back on the scene after ten (10) days, his son noticed that the house was looted.

V. VEHICLES BURNED
220. Fifty-seven (57) vehicles were set on fire at least twenty-five (25) at Butte Boyer and Marais and thirty-two (32) between Koridò Djò and Santo 2. Examples include:

- In the courtyard where Kenneth JEAN BAPTISTE lived there were four (4) cars. They were all set on fire by Chen Mechan’s bandits. It’s a pickup truck, a red Toyota Land Cruiser, a grey 4 Runner, and a garnet red Honda.
- A Toyota Rav 4 car in grey, registration 34108, and Tracker in black. These two (2) cars were entrusted to Gentil JEUNE for repairs. The latter’s house was also set on fire at Carrefour Marassa.
221. Several other vehicles in the Dominican garage in Wout Tè were set on fire.

VI. INTERVIEWS WITH JUDICIAL AND POLICE OFFICIALS

222. According to the police authorities, despite the crucial lack of intervention equipment, PNH officers intervened on the ground. In this sense, together with specialized units of the PNH, more than thirty (30) operations were conducted in different areas of the Cul-de-Sac Plain, which resulted in the arrest of several individuals. These include, but are not limited to:

- Roberto ISAAC, an influential member of the Baz 222 gang based in the commune of Tabarre affiliated with the 400 Mawozo gangs. According to the police institution, Roberto ISAAC confessed to having participated in more than eleven (11) murders including that of one (1) police commissioner murdered in Tabarre 23.

- Wilner JEROME and Saint-Jean FRANÇOIS, two (2) individuals placed on the Tabarre bridge by the 400 Mawozo armed gangs to control the movement of police armored tanks.

223. In addition, at least five (5) seized firearms. This is an M4 caliber rifle, a Galil, a 12-caliber rifle, and two (2) other thirty-eight (38) millimeter and nine (9) millimeter caliber weapons respectively. Seven (7) vehicles that were stolen by armed bandits were also recovered by the PNH.

224. At least thirty (30) complaints were received by the police institution. Thirteen (13) of them were deposited by relatives of persons murdered or missing during the Carnage of the Plain of Cul-de-Sac.

225. The PNH also affirmed to RNDDH and deplore that many corpses were not found, and no justice of the peace has been available to make any statement.

226. Finally, new arrangements have been made, according to officials of the PNH, to accompany the population. In this sense, patrols have been strengthened, fixed points have been multiplied or made effective. New police antennas have been placed at several points.

227. The General Inspection of the PNH asserted to the RNDDH that it was not aware of the use of police equipment and equipment in the commission of the Carnage of la Plain of Cul-de-Sac. And, therefore, no investigation is on the agenda around this fact.

228. For their part, the judicial authorities said that they could not move forward with the case. The titular judge of the Court of Peace of the Croix-des-Missions with whom the RNDDH spoke, did not receive any specific request for a statement of facts from the citizens.

229. The titular Judge of the Peace Court of the Croix-des-Bouquets, who had made a report of three (3) corpses, a few days after their murder, could not do anything else. The government commissioner at the Court of First Instance of the Croix-des-Bouquets was not able, for his part, to provide information to the RNDDH on the judicial follow-up granted to the Carnage of la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac.

VII. CURRENT SITUATION IN THE PLAIN OF THE CUL-DE-SAC

230. Two (2) months after the Carnage of la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac, the general situation in the area remains very precarious. The victims live in constant fear of further attacks by the 400 Mawozo armed gang as they continue to be subjected to sporadic raids led by the Chen Mechan base, which continues to search, among the population, people who might have ties to the 400 Mawozo gang.

231. In this sense, the witch hunt initiated by the Chen Mechan base has not yet ended. For example, on June 22, 2022, a young man was shot in Damien before being charred in the adjacent woods. He was accused of doing surveillance work for the benefit of the 400 Mawozo gangs.

232. Many families who had fled still do not want to return to the area. They say they are waiting for the police to regain control of the area and dismantle the armed gangs 400 Mawozo and Chen Mechan.

233. In the meantime, pressure is being put on the displaced persons who had taken refuge in the public square of Clercine. They are being asked to vacate the premises. Most of them are victims who have lost everything in the fire. And it should be noted that some of them are infants, young children, and the elderly.

234 Many schools that had closed never really resumed operations. They work according to the tension in the area. Many students have also not returned to school, without those responsible for these schools being able to say whether they are victims of assassinations, disappearances, or whether, quite simply, these children were forced to travel with their parents, because of the carnage.

235. Moreover, without the RNDDH being able to provide any figures on this, it should be noted that several schools were set on fire, completely destroyed, and/or partially damaged.

VIII. COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

236. From April 24 to May 6, 2022, with the complicity of state authorities who offer protection and blessing to armed gangs, the population of the Cul-de-Sac Plain went through hell: people were killed by bullets, chopped into small pieces, charred, thrown into water wells or latrines, and thrown into the Grey River. Many women were repeatedly raped before being murdered. Houses and vehicles were set on fire.

237. The toll of this real carnage is heavy: at least one hundred and ninety-one (191) people have been murdered, including one hundred and seven (107) men, seventy-six (76) women, six (6) girls, and two (2) boys. Twenty-nine (29) of these victims were over the age of sixty (60) years.

238. Among the victims, thirty-eight (38) of whom at least fourteen (14) women and girls, perished at home in the fire at their home, by the armed bandits of 400 Mawozo and Chen Mechan.

239. Eighty-one (81) houses were burned down after being looted for the most part and fifty-seven (57) vehicles at least, were charred.

240. Forty-eight (48) of the persons killed were presented to the RNDDH as members of rival armed gangs or as persons believed to be close to the Chen Mechan base.

241 Many others were injured by gunfire or stabbing.

242. Entire families are scattered. People between seventy-two (72) and eighty-six (86) years of age were charred inside their homes. If some of them had chosen not to move, others would not have been able to escape without someone’s help, being immobilized by diseases.

243 Many people are considered missing by their loved ones, who cannot yet conceive that they have been murdered so easily. And at least one hundred and fifty-eight (158) children have since become orphans.

244. In addition to the numerous losses in human lives and the numerous material damages recorded, this massacre of an unprecedented scale leaves a bruised population: children have had to choose to abandon their parents at an advanced age, spouses have abandoned their companions, and vice versa. Several women were repeatedly raped, including at least one in the presence of her spouse. Fathers and mothers were murdered in the presence of their children, most of whom were young. Similarly, children have been murdered under the helpless gaze of their parents. Finally, many families have seen the work of a lifetime go up in smoke. For the RNDDH, these are victims who will never be able to escape without medical and psychological support, considering their specific needs.

245. The RNDDH objects to the fact that on the first day of the attack, that is April 24, 2022, police equipment, including at least one (1) armored unit assigned to the Departmental Unit for the Maintenance of Order (UDMO), was used by the members of the G-D9 years Fanmi e Alye to help the Chen Mechan base, which was also a member of the coalition. However, it took five (5) days for the police institution to decide to patrol the area.
246. It is clear to the RNDDH that the equipment and materials allocated to the UDMO were acquired by the state authorities for the benefit of the G-9 Fanmi e Alye. The RNDDH wants proof of this the fact that these materials are always used during the struggles between armed gangs, not to help the civilian population and protect it, but to take up the cause for the bandit’s members of the G-9 Fanmi e Alye. We remember that armored vehicles assigned to the UDMO have been used many times in many other massacres recorded in the country since 2018.

247. The RNDDH considers that it is also clear that, in the context of the Carnage of la Plaine du Cul de Sac, the police institution has opted for a non-interventionist posture, despite the many distress calls that have been made by the desperate population. Waiting five (5) days before taking action on the ground is simply a deliberate choice to turn the population over to the fury of gangs.

248. Two (2) months after the Carnage of la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac, the judicial authorities, for their part, are floundering in proceedings that have not yet – or will never, more likely – be launched. However, at the same time, the witch hunt continues with the members of the Chen Mechan base who, under the pretext that members of the population provide information to the 400 Mawozo gangs, murder young people.

249. Moreover, the RNDDH does not understand that in this context of terror where members of the population are murdered every day, journalists and other public figures are campaigning for armed bandits in a failed attempt to portray them as peaceful citizens or as armed groups defending a vision.

250. The RNDDH would like to draw everyone’s attention to the fact that armed gangs, which have been causing grief in families for so long, are truly criminal associations. They have criminals within them who want to control strategic areas to preserve their political, economic, electoral, and financial interests while allowing their relatives in power to stay there.

251. In addition, the RNDDH recalls that in cases of massive violations of human rights as recorded in the la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac, it is the duty of the state authorities to intervene, protect the population, and guarantee the enjoyment of the rights to life, security, traffic, and housing. These are rights enshrined both by the Haitian Constitution in force and by various international and regional human rights protection instruments, of which Haiti is a part.

252. Until now, the State authorities have remained silent on the events of the la Plaine du Cul de Sac, a silence that loudly proclaims their connections with the armed bandits.

253. The RNDDH, with all the above, recommends that State authorities:

- Provide financial, medical, and psychological support to survivors of the Carnage de la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac;
• To call on the DCPJ to investigate the acts perpetrated against the lives and property of the la Plaine du Cul-de-Sac from April 24 to May 6, 2022, to transmit to the judicial authorities a detailed report, for the setting in motion public action against all those involved in it;

• Lead the DCPJ to investigate the close relations between certain journalists, public figures, and armed bandits;

• Lead the General Inspection of the Haitian National Police (IGPNH) to investigate the involvement of police equipment and equipment including the UDMO - in the commission of the Carnage of the Plain of Cul de Sac;

• End distribution of weapons and ammunition to armed bandits;

• Re-establish anti-counterfeiting brigades to prevent illegal weapons and ammunition from entering the country.
